Understanding Psalm 72

THE NAME OF PSALMS

PSALM 1

BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

And he shall be like a tree, planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf shall not wither, and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

The ungodly are not so; but are like the chaff which driveth away with the wind.

Therefore shall the congregation of the righteous not stand in the judgment of the ungodly.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSALM 2

WHY do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?

The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying, We will break their bonds, and cast away their shackles.

He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall deride them.

They shall say, We have taken in vain our counsel, we have laboured in vain: we have taken up our voice as a horn, and we have feared vainly.

I will now be afraid of the wrath of the Lord, and of his anger against me.

I will say to the multitude of people, God hath descended from heaven, and shall be with us, and shall punish the ungodly.

Arise, O Lord, and break the bonds of the ungodly.

God, thou hast broken the bonds of the ungodly.

Send forth thy salvation, O Lord, and prosper thy people. Selah.

PSALM 4

HEAR the when I call, O God, of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I said, I will not move: have mercy upon me, O Lord, and hear my prayer.

WHY do the heathen rage, and why do the people imagine a vain thing?
The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying:

Let us break their bonds, and cast away their cords.
He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh at them; the Lord shall deride them in his wrath, and shall rebuke them in his displeasure.
Yet have I set my king upon Zion, my holy hill.
I will declare the decree of the Lord, which hath said, unto me, My son, art thou this day born?
I will ask of the heathen for their idols, and the uttermost parts of the earth; for thy possession, O Lord, is the earth.
Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.
He will now therefore, O kings, be instructed, ye that are of the earth.
Serve the Lord with trembling, and rejoice with trembling.
Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled

PSALM 1
BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.
But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law doth he meditate day and night.
And he shall be like a tree, planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither, and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

Therefore shall the ungodly not stand in the judgment of the righteous.
For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSALM 2
WHY do the heathen rage, and why do the people imagine a vain thing?
The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel against the Lord, saying, We will not submit ourselves unto him.

He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh at them; the Lord shall have them in derision.
Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and shall vex them in his displeasure.
Yet have I set my king upon Zion, my holy hill.
I will declare the decree of the Lord, which hath said unto me, My Son, art thou this day born?
Ask of me, and I shall give thee; and the uttermost parts of the earth shall be thine inheritance.
Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.
Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye lords of the earth.
Serve the Lord with trembling, and rejoice with trembling.
Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled against you.

PSALM 4
HEAR me when I call, O God; do not enlarge my distress; and hear my prayer.
I have been angry because of my voice, because of my voice have I enlarged my distress; because of my voice have I murmured.
I will not be afraid of the multitude of people; because I have said, I will not be afraid of the multitude of people.
Arise, O Lord; save me, O God: for thou hast broken the teeth of mine enemies; upon the cheek of the ungodly thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly; thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.
The Lord hath broken the teeth of the ungodly; thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.
The Lord hath broken the teeth of the ungodly; thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.
The Lord hath broken the teeth of the ungodly; thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.

PSALM 5
Give ear, O Lord, unto my voice: do not hold thy peace, because of my voice; because of my voice do not hold thy peace.
My voice shall be heard of thee, O Lord: my voice shall be heard of thee.
My voice shall be heard of thee, O Lord: my voice shall be heard of thee.
My voice shall be heard of thee, O Lord: my voice shall be heard of thee.

PSALM 2

HEAR ye the voice of the Lord, when he saith to the heathen, I will smite them, and will set as naught their idols; when he saith to the kings, I will smite them, and will bring them down as to the earth.

Therefore shall the kings be astonished, and shall they be afraid; they shall be troubled, and shall be in haste.

They shall say, We have heard the voice of the Lord, we have feared, we have obeyed; we have saved our souls from the edge of the sword, for the Lord our God hath saved us from the hand of every enemy.

Therefore shall they be afraid, and shall not be bold; they shall be in haste, and shall not be angry; for the Lord our God hath saved us from the hand of every enemy.

Therefore shall they be afraid, and shall not be bold; they shall be in haste, and shall not be angry; for the Lord our God hath saved us from the hand of every enemy.

PSALM 4

HEAR ye when I call, O God, when I have said, My distress is great; O Lord, when I have said, My distress is great, have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

For mine iniquities have prevailed, and mine iniquities have prevailed against me; and my conscience is troubled because of mine iniquities; and I have said, My distress is great, O Lord, when I have said, My distress is great, have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

PSALM 2

LORD, how art thou angry, how art thou wroth, how art thou incensed against thee, how art thou angry against thee, how art thou wroth against thee, how art thou incensed against thee.

Therefore shall the heathen rage, and the kings shall be wroth, and shall say, We will not submit ourselves unto him, for we will not be subject unto him.

Therefore shall the Lord be angry, and shall be wroth, and shall be incensed against them, and shall say, I will visit their folly upon them, because they have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his counsel, and have despised his voice, and have despised his counsel, and have despised his voice, and have despised his counsel.

Therefore shall the Lord be angry, and shall be wroth, and shall be incensed against them, and shall say, I will visit their folly upon them, because they have despised his word, and have despised his voice, and have despised his counsel, and have despised his voice, and have despised his counsel.

PSALM 4

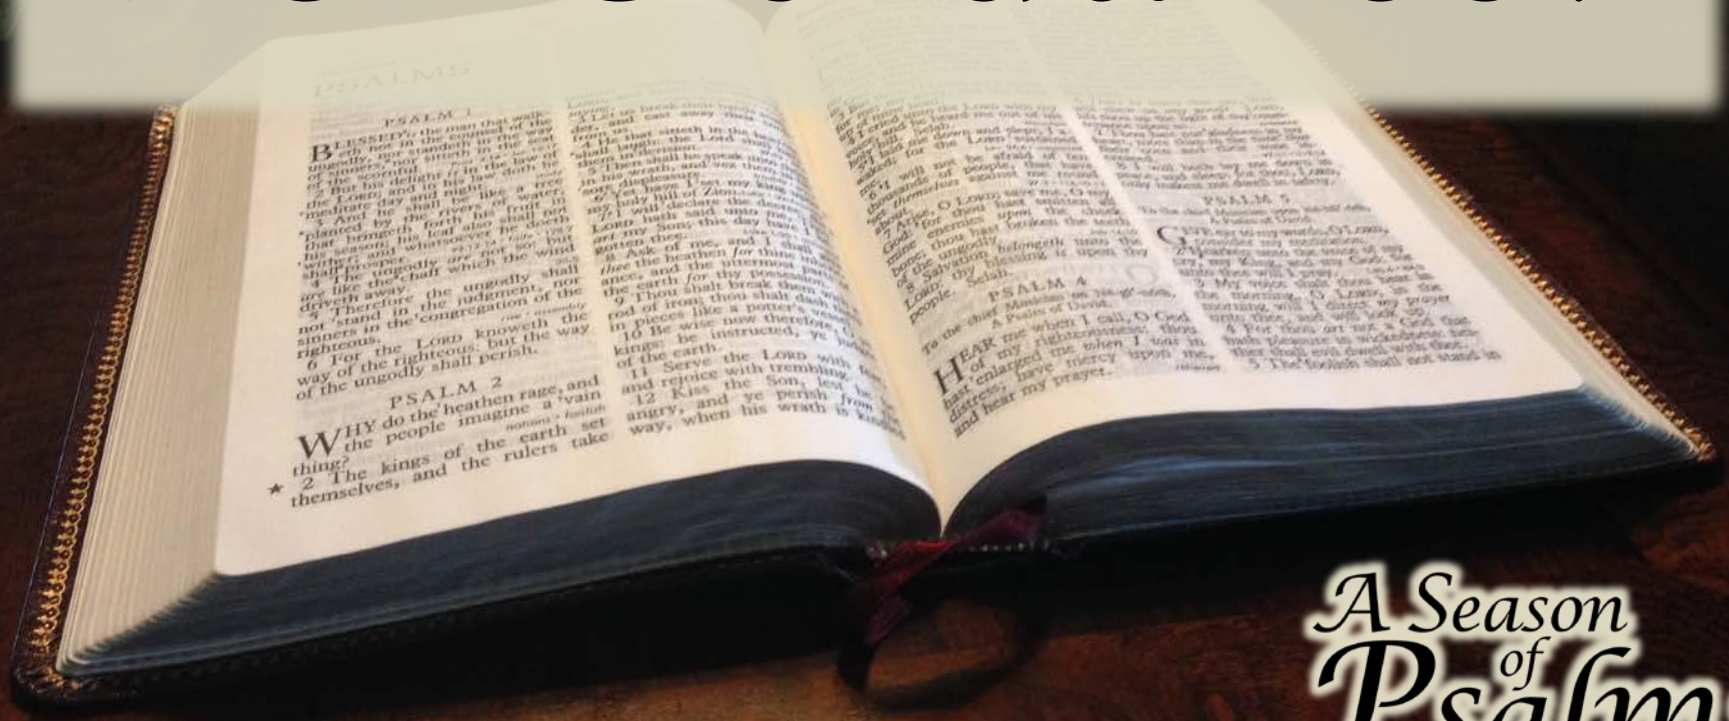

HEAR me when I call, O God, for mine ears have not heard thy voice, O God, for mine ears have not heard thy voice, O God, for mine ears have not heard thy voice.

Therefore shall I cry unto thee, O God, for mine ears have not heard thy voice, O God, for mine ears have not heard thy voice.

Therefore shall I cry unto thee, O God, for mine ears have not heard thy voice, O God, for mine ears have not heard thy voice.

PSALM 1

BLESSED is the man that walks not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor stands in the way of sinners, nor sits in the seat of the scornful; but his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in his law does he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that brings forth his fruit in his season; his leaf shall not wither, and whatsoever he does shall prosper. The ungodly are not so; they are like the chaff which drives away in the wind. Therefore shall they not stand in the judgment of the righteous. The Lord knows the way of the righteous, but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

PSALM 2

WHY do the heathen rage, and why do the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying: We will break their bonds, we will not regard their counsel. He that sits in the heavens shall laugh at them in derision. Then shall he speak to them in his wrath, and say to them in his displeasure: Yet have I set my king upon Zion, my holy hill. I will declare the decree of the Lord, who hath said unto me: Thou art my son; this day have I begotten thee. Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession. Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel. He will instruct, ye kings of the earth. 11 Serve the Lord with trembling, and rejoice with trembling. 12 Kiss the Son, lest he be angry; and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled

PSALM 4

HEAR me when I call, O God, for my righteousness has enlarged me when I said my distress; have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.

PSALM 5

GOD, do not anger me, nor be wroth with me; do not rebuke me in thy wrath, nor chasten me in thy anger. Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for my soul is weary. My eyes are ever toward thee, O Lord, and I will not be moved. For thou hast broken the mouth of my enemies, and hast broken the mouth of the ungodly. Salvation is of the Lord; and he will save his people. Selah.

PSALM 2
HEAR me when I call, O God,
that I may answer thee.
My heart is pained with grief,
and my soul is troubled.
My eyes are turned to the hills, and I see the towers of the stronghold.
Why do the heathen rage,
and the people imagine a vain
thing?
The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying,
We will break their bonds, and cast away their shackles.
They say,
We will not see the Lord,

Therefore shall the wrath of the Lord be kindled against them, and he will stretch out his hand against them, and smite them, and will break down the tower of the stronghold, and will bring down the high fortification.
He will say,
I will not be afraid of the counsel of the heathen, nor will
I be troubled when they say,
We will not see the Lord.
Therefore shall the wrath of the 5 Therefore shall the judgment of the righteous be like a threshing sickle; at the end of the harvest the ungodly shall be gathered together, and shall be burned

as chaff.

PSALM 2

WHY do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain
thing?

2 The kings of the earth set
themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed; saying,

3 Let us break their bonds and cast away their cords.

4 He that sits in the heavens shall laugh at them; the Lord shall scorn them in his counsel, and shall rebuke them in his wrath, and shall destroy them in his displeasure.

5 Therefore shall the kings be as a laughing stock to him, and he shall smile at them.

6 Yet have I set my kings
in Zion, my holy hill, saying, My anointed shall I not be, and I shall not say, My son, for the Lord hath said unto me,
Thou art my son, this day

PSALM 3

THE Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, and my high tower; my refuge in the day of wrath, my stronghold in the day of trouble.

Therefore will I not be afraid, though the earth be removed, and the mountains be carried away.

For the Lord hath chosen David, and he hath loved him; the Lord will be sanctified by him, and will be glorified in him.

The Lord will be sanctified in the church, and will be glorified in the congregation of the saints.

The Lord will be sanctified in the church, and will be glorified in the congregation of the saints.

The Lord will be sanctified in the church, and will be glorified in the congregation of the saints.

PSALM 4

HEAR ye the voice of my cry, O Lord, when I cry unto thee, when I cry and when I roar.

When I am vexed, spare my soul; when I am weary, let not my soul fail.

For mine iniquities are against me, and mine iniquities have borne witness against me.

My heart is vexed exceedingly, and mine eyes are sore with weeping; mine heart is sore, and mine soul is troubled.

For the Lord hath heard my voice, and the Lord hath answered me, and the Lord hath said unto me, I will be merciful unto thee, and will be gracious unto thee.
